

Cops & Gobblers is working to help families with children during the start of the school year with a “back-to-school” food bag and a Safeway gift card.

Together with partners like the Albertsons and Safeway Nourishing Neighbors program, we can make a difference for families facing food insecurity. This issue increased dramatically in our community during 2020 and it continues to be a significant problem in 2021. The Cops & Gobblers program is proud to be able to help families with children as they begin the new school year.

Cops & Gobblers is fortunate to be the recipient of a generous grant from the Albertsons Foundation and Safeway Nourishing Neighbors program that makes this opportunity to help families with children possible.

“We are most grateful to Albertsons and Safeway and all their generous customers for helping fight hunger in our community,” said Cops and Gobblers Coordinator Bruce Barsi. “These funds will go a long way to provide healthy nourishment for the children of our community.”

Cops & Gobblers will be giving over 200 families a “back-to-school” food bag and Safeway gift card on Saturday, September 25th at the Mountain View Police Department located at 1000 Villa Street. Each family will be given a voucher and a time to pick up their food bag. Safety protocols will be followed with face masks and distancing.
